

PROFESSIONAL TRAINING VIDEOS

InTele Training produces feature driven professional training videos for any product that are customised for your organisation or for your client. We offer two types of training videos.

FILMED

Filmed training videos offer a live action view of using the product, a trainer will either explain the features of the product as if you were sitting with them or the features of the product can be shown with a voiceover explaining what is happening in the video. Here is an example of a filmed training video.

ANIMATED

Animated training videos are created using 2D and 3D animation. They allow further customisation with arrows and circles highlighting different features and clearly showing which buttons to press without hands covering the product. Here is an example of an animated training video.

VOICE OVER

Training videos can either be voiced by the trainer or professionally produced by a voiceover talent.

OUR PROCESS

We develop a training video proposal that is customised to the features and functions that will be covered in the videos. Once the proposal is accepted, InTele Training will create a training video script for you to review. Once that is approved, InTele Training will produce the videos.

SUBSCRIPTION BASED TRAINING VIDEOS

We also have a subscription-based eLearning Platform for key product ranges. We develop and maintain the training videos including any product updates. We have created training videos for a range of handsets and UC applications. Please ask us more about this service.
